A VISIT TO A SOFT TOY FACTORY

(10)

Q4) Read this interesting story and answer the questions that follow.

Class IV was really excited. They were going to visit a soft toy factory. Their teacher told them to behave well and not touch anything. They should listen to their guide carefully and ask questions if they have any doubts. They would enjoy their visit if they followed instructions carefully.

The next day, armed with water bottles and tiffin boxes, the children set out. After a short bus journey, they reached a large barn-like building. They entered a big room which had long tables on one side and gleaming sewing machines on the other. Young men and women were hard at work. The machines made clicking and whirring noise.

The guide showed them how the pattern of toy animals were cut from all kinds of fabric. There was furry brown cloth for the teddies, and grey, white and pink material for the bunnies. There was fancy pink and white lacy cloth for the Raggedy Ann dolls which the girls really loved.

The shapes of the animals and dolls were stitched on one side and then soft poly-fibre wool was filled into them to give it shape. Finally the edges were stitched close.

The faces of the dolls were painted and artificial hair stuck on their heads. Finally pretty pink shoes were put on their feet.

The children then went to a large hall where beautiful soft toys were packed in boxes and these boxes were then put in large cartons and loaded into huge trucks to be delivered to stores and malls all over the country.

The children returned home very happy. Each one of them had been given a soft toy as a memento. They looked forward to another visit soon.
